

Another Day

Brown Floyd

Well if I had a minute of time to let my heart pour out well I could paint a picture with words that I hope you would enjoy My heart stands still today and every way I want to fill you in on it and ain't it sad and it's so true and ain't it a shame well then there's another day waiting for you oh yeah You don't let another day go bye you You don't let another day pass you bye Come with me come take my hand let's walk on down the path cause if you try and fight the powers that be you'll end up in a trap well I could hear your cryin all alone as you wait for me by the train and ain't it so sad well then there's another day waitin just for you oh yeah You don't let another day go bye you
You don't let another day pass you bye oh yeah
