

All I Want (Future Of Forestry EP Version)

Future of Forestry

I will go where glory meets the crude and weak
I will go where mercy meets the shame
I will go where strength will find the small and meek
I will go where magic meets mundane And you're all I want, you're all I want
You're all I'll find, you have my heart forever
You are all that I could need
And you're all I want, you're all I want
You're all I'll find, you have my heart forever
You are all that I could need I will go where grace and healing, love restores
I will go where peace and rest is known
I will go where friendship finds my heart in yours
I will go where beauty leads me home And you're all I want, you're all I want
You're all I'll find, you have my heart forever
You are all that I could need
And you're all I want, you're all I want
You're all I'll find, you have my heart forever
You are all that I could need
