

You're Gonna Get What's Coming

Robert Palmer

You came up on me like a landslide
Once in awhile I get taken like that and I like it
And I've got a thunderbird parked right outside
Then give me a minute to finish this thing and we'll light it In all this heat it's a job keeping cool, oh yeah
And I could fry an egg on you, oh
You came up on me like a landslide
And once in awhile I get taken like that and I like it You're gonna get what's coming
You've been asking for it two days running
You're gonna get what's coming
You're gonna get what's coming to you I hope that you're half as intrepid then as you make out
More often than not, I'll bet you never got what you asked for Keep on pouring until you hear me shout
And turn up the sound if you want me to drive any faster Caution went out when you walked in the room, oh yeah
If it never came back it would be too soon You're gonna get what's coming
You've been asking for it two days running
You're gonna get what's coming
You're gonna get what's coming to you And you're gonna get what's coming
You've been asking for it two days running
And you're gonna get what's coming
You're gonna get what's coming to you You came up on me like a landslide
Once in awhile I get taken like that and I like it You're gonna get what's coming
You've been asking for it two days running
And you're gonna get what's coming
You're gonna get what's coming to you You're gonna get what's coming
You've been asking for it two days running
You're gonna get what's coming
You're gonna get what's coming to you You're gonna get what's coming
You've been asking for it two days running
You're gonna get what's coming
You're gonna get what's coming to you You're gonna get what's coming
You've been asking for it two days running
You're gonna get what's coming
You're gonna get what's coming to you
