

Back On The Streets

Helloween

I've been told in the name of somethin'
I've got to know what it means to play the game
Too many faces around they're talking
They play their parts oh so well but who's to blame
Back on the steets, that's where we are
Building a fortress of power
Yea, we're comin'
You know better than me the rules
Are getting better of fat in the mania
It's good to know who is who in our game
The speed is faster, it's harder to see where we are
Back on the steets, that's where we are
Building a fortress of power
Yea
Please mister know how just bring me the news
I'm waiting so long for you telling all you can tell
There's one thing about you you're dying to prove
The master plan is your's and living with knowledge is hell
Back on the steets, that's where we are
Building a fortress of power
Yea, we're coming
