A Gift Or A Curse

Iced Earth

I feel a heavy burden
A million souls upon me weigh
Though I've felt uncertain
The more revealed, I've found my wayAm I a gift, am I a curse?
I'm one and all of God and earthAnd as the order guides me
The trials beckon brutal days
The art of the travelers
The ghost dance and the shifter's wayAm I a gift, am I a curse?
I'm one and all of God and earthAt times there's doubt within me
To ask as much of one so young
Yet I believe in the prophecy
And the framing that's been doneAnd I know I possess the strength
They molded me from birth
The catalyst of all that's planned
Cleansing man from earthInject the venom into my veins
Of the vile beasts of earth
The transformation now takes place
The shifter's art is learnedThe dimension gauntlet lies ahead
I master every age
I am a God that walks the earth
The embodiment of rageNow the trials are over
I am complete, what I was born to be
The crown awaits the chosen
And I begin my destinyI am a gift, I am a curse
One and all, a God on earth
