

Fire Fly

I-Exist

the rockets red glare as I burst into air the sky around was dead and so down until I caught your stare lifting up I will never touch the ground selfishly I brighten the sky I will color
I will fly like a comet shot through the night
I will conquer with neon dye when I let my fire fly somewhere out there atmosphere so bare give me a mortar and give me powder give me a fuse to share lifting up I will never touch the ground
selfishly I brighten the sky I will color
I will fly like a comet shot through the night
when I let my fire fly so crazy exploding daily like the sun rises we will go turning faces inspiring places
just how much light is there to show?
