Back Round

Wolfmother

Hey, I'm coming home right now
Can you tell me if the people need to let alone right now?I'm coming home
It's been too long since the light was gone
I'm coming home, yeahCome alive, come alive just to see you
Realize it's all in front of you
Realize it's all you ever know
Realize it's all you ever doOh, I'm coming back around
Oh, it won't be longIt looks like someone has been, been here before
They left here thinking they could still have it allThe tickets sold and the man got rich with a seven year itch
But all those involved fell over in their own ditch
They like eyes to see on parallels, seeing all things as similar
For those who deny chance have no chance at allOh, I'm coming back around
Oh, it won't be long
