About Nothing

Scott Weiland

She got nothing but shes waiting at the candy store
She got nothing but shes waiting at the candy store
Shes got nothing, nothing, she still wants more
Shes got nothing, nothing, she still wants moreShe said, "So turn your head, unlock the door
Youll never get what you had before
So turn your head, unlock the door
Youll never get what you had before"She waits while you think about it
And while you think about nothing
And while you think about nothing
She waits while you think about it
And while you think about nothing
And while you think about nothingShe got nothing but shes waiting at the candy store
She got nothing but shes waiting at the candy store
Shes got nothing, nothing, she still wants more
Shes got nothing, nothing, she still wants moreShe said, "So turn your head, unlock the door
Youll never get what you had before
So turn your head, unlock the door
Youll never get what you had before"She waits while you think about it
And while you think about nothing
And while you think about nothing
She waits while you think about it
And while you think about nothing
And while you think about nothingSo turn your head, unlock the door
Youll never get what you had before
So turn your head, unlock the door
Youll never get what you had beforeShe waits while you think about it
And while you think about nothing
And while you think about nothing
She waits while you think about it
And while you think about nothing
And while you think about nothing
Nothing, nothing, nothing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/