Only For The Weak

Avalon

Some say it's rules and regulations
And trying to always be right
No room for mistakes in the choices we make
For only the strong surviveBut it's not about perfect performance
Or resolution of will
It's all about surrender
Giving up, being stillIt's only for the weak
For the faint of heart
Those driven to their knees
Those who live with scars
There's power from beyond
We're certain where it's from
And that's our source of strength
Before we follow Christ
We need to be advised
It's only for the weakHe welcomes the worn and the weary
All who are wounded by sin
And just as we are, we can fall in his arms
Rest and find shelter in himSeems like each day is a battle
With burdens and struggles to face
Only in our losing
Do we really see how much we've gained?It's only for the weak
For the faint of heart
Those driven into their knees
Those who live with scars
There's power from beyond
We're certain where it's from
And that's our source of strength
Before we follow Christ
We need to be advised
It's only for the weakThe father always starts
Within a willing heart
Open to how he moves
[Incomprehensible] his spirit is poured
He will do so much more
Than we dreamed he could doIt's only for the weak
For the faint of heart
Those driven into their knees
Those who live with scars

There's power from beyond
We're certain where it's from
And that's our source of strength
Before we follow Christ
We need to be advised
It's only for the weakFor the faint of heart
Those driven to their knees
Those who live with scars
There's power from beyond
We're certain where it's from
And that's our source of strength
Oh, before we follow Christ
We need to be advised
It's only for the weakOnly for the weak
Only for the weak
(Only for, only for the week, yeah)
(Only for, only for the week, yeah)
(Only for, only for the week, yeah)
(Only for, only for the week, yeah)

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/