Le Ballet d'or

Counting Crows

Wasted time running scared
When all of love needs is to be believed in
All those springs come and gone
Passed like trains and box cars, leavingBut I would be lying if I didnt tell you the truth
They will leave you, they will leave youSo come now, lets go dance to the siren's song
Come now, leave your damage behind and goneSome are lost to youWasted time running scared
All that I need is to believe in Something like a summer
And I know you need somebody just like I doAnd all of these foxes go down in there barrels to hide
They will leave you, they will leave you behindSo come now, let's go dance to the siren's song
Come now, leave damage behind and gone
So come now, lets go down to the dance floor
Come now, lose your mind at Le Ballet Do'rSome are lost, some are leaving
Some are lost, some are leaving
But Im not gone at all, Im not going anywhere at all
Some are lost to youWasted time running scared
Now autumn's fire as ashes on the breeze
And it spins away like dust on pearls
As winter comes to usher in the eveningBut all of these drummers go stand on the hillside alone
They will leave you, they will leave you at homeSo come home now, let's go dance to the siren's song
Come now, leave your damage behind and gone
So come now, lets go down to the dance floor
Come now, lose your mind at Le Ballet Do'rJust come now, come on, lets get out while the gettings good
Just come now, theres no one left in the neighborhood

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/