Someone

Duette

Love should mean so much
But the only kind I touch was incomplete
Till the moment I found you
That's the moment that I knew
There's someone like me
Who still believes somethings are meant to be
Someone who needs forever someone like you
Holding on to the same dream I've been dreaming of Someone who still believes in love
So here you are at last
We can feel what's come to pass
Is here to stay
World can come and go
It won't matter 'cause I know
There's someone like me
Who still believes somethings are meant to be
Someone who needs forever someone like you
Holding on to the same dream I've been dreaming of Someone who still believes in love yeah
Someone like you
Holding on to the same dream
I've been dreaming of
Someone who still believes in love
Someone who still believes in love
