International

Sweet Trip

Everyone seems different today
Cause nothing really matters anyway
Attitude adjustment
Always in perfection
When you got the sunshine everyday
Politicians say
You hear every word I say
But you read the papers any way
The times they are still changing every dayIs it enough to knock you off your feet
Feeling like a soldier 8 days a week
But your always lying
You're crying all the timeYou hear every word I say
But you read the papers any way
Commencing countdown...5,4,3,2,1You hear every word I say
But you read the papers any way..
The times they are still changing every daySo come on lets get? some more
Just like in 1964Try to grab it away
I'll still be right here
Right here by your sideInternational (repeat, along with 1 or 2 other lines in the background, one of which is "International eyes are wide awake")
