Questions Still Remain

Face to Face

When I found out
If I took it as the truth
Could there be another meaning here?
If what you say
Is what you wanted to be true
Do you know you've lost your reasoning?
So filled with doubt
So unaffected by the news
I am different than I used to be
And what you say
I'm so convinced it's not the truth
Was it me or was it
I know that I'm still the same
Everything around me changes
Questions still remain
Questions still remain
Questions still remain
When I found out
If I took it as the truth
Could there be another meaning here?
I know that I'm still the same
Everything around me changes
Questions still remain
Questions still remain
Questions still remain
If what you say
Is what you wanted to be true
Do you know you've lost your reasoning?
