

The Key & The Rose

I Was Totally Destroying It

How long have I been so lost in my mind
How slow my world moves and changes in time
Could have sworn that I was gone, but I've been asleep for so long
How long forgotten this ocean of sound
How long must I be a wanderer, because I've found that
I don't have to feel like this
And you don't have to feel like this
And we don't have to feel like this is home, no
Never, no never, no never, so wrong
How dry the desert, how empty the sea
How I was longing to look for the key and the rose
Find your way home and we'll come there to meet you
To draw the door, draw the door
I don't have to feel like this
And you don't have to feel like this
And we don't have to feel like this is home, no
Never, no never, no never, so wrong...

---

Lyrics submitted by John.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>