Penance

Device

In the perfect dark, a botticellian angel exists
The elusive partner puts her key in my hand
A fairly simple gesture, shrouded in evil
As she distorts, it becomes easy to understand
Lost in her piercing eyes
As everything around me, diesWell, can you make the nightmares go away?
Can you pull the demon from inside?
Will the penance make the nightmares go away?
And save me from this endless nightIn the choking dark, I try to move, I'm unable
A hundred thousand moving creatures tickle my flesh
I feel the heat, it's getting harder to breathe
I feel the panic taking hold, for I'm beginning to understand
The only way I'll be saved
Is if someone breaks into my graveWell, can you make the nightmares go away?
Can you pull the demon from inside?
Will the penance make the nightmares go away?
And save me from this endless nightDon't need it, don't want it
No more sedation, no more sedation
Don't need it, don't want it
Eradicate this endless aching insideDon't need it, don't want it
No more sedation, no more sedation
Don't need it, don't want it
Eradicate this endless aching insideWell, can you make the nightmares go away?
Can you pull the demon from inside?
Will the penance make the nightmares go away?
And save me from this endless nightWell, can you make the nightmares go away?
Can you pull the demon from inside?
Will the penance make the nightmares go away?
And save me from this dreadful night
