

Light Years

311

You're a thousand light years running through my brain
Reminding me that no one's sane
Not all the time, yes You're a thousand light years running through my brain
Reminding me that no one's sane
Not all the time Yes I still remember you
In a way that you'd want me to
I mean a man you know will never bore you
Who will never bore you Never let your regret make you wish we had not met
I cannot think that way, yeah
You love me crazy, see that plainly
