Ugly

Six Feet Under

Ugly inside, ugly outsideI can't stand to hear their screams
It's all like some kind of terrible dream
I close my eyes and I start to drip in sweat
When the lights go out, I dream of death
Death, death, motherfucking deathI wake up and see the blood
Then I remember what I have done
I closed my eyes, then I started to kill, kill, kill
When I woke up, they were all fucking dead, deadYou are so ugly, you deserve to die
You deserve to dieCrawl inside that ugly brain of yours
I'll get inside my ugly brain
Crawl inside that ugly brain of yours
And I'll get inside my ugly brainTwist of fate, a twist of the blade
Choices we make, we dig our own grave
Twist of fate, a twist of the blade
Beauty, they say, is only skin deepWe dig our own grave, a twist of the blade
I'll dig your graveWe're ugly inside, ugly outside
Ugly inside, ugly outside
Ugly inside, ugly outside
Ugly inside, ugly outsideTen dead bodies just a rotting away
I got 'em all propped up next to me
In my room, a chopped-off leg, a popped-out eye
I hope you are the next to dieFeel this, hear your screams
Feel this, hear your screams
Feel this, hear your screams
Feel this, hear your screamsFeel this, hear your screams
Feel this, hear your screams
Feel this, hear your screams
Feel this, hear your screams, screams
Screams, screams, screams, screams, screams
