Brand New God

Danzig

I am a walking screaming hell
A thing of torture to behold
This vivisection splits my soul
A thing of torture to beholdWhere you run to Won't take too long
I've come to get you
Won't take too longAnd death should know weNo hesitating
Give up your heart
It ain't so lonely
Without your heartAnd death should know we
My hands are dirty with his bloodAnd I can take you there
I've got a brand new God
And if I lay you there
Under my brand new God
Then I will slay you there
For my brand new God
Brand new God, brand new GodWhere are you running to
It didn't take too long
I've come and gone now
You didn't take too longAnd death should know we
My hands are dirty with his blood
And death should know we
After all I prepared you
For the second coming of my God
