

I Believe In Love

Driver

Here I am waiting for the final scene
Destiny pictured on the silver screen in my dreams Agony, it was all I ever knew
    Until I found victory searching for the vital clue
        It was you
    You take me by the hand, lift me up and make me stand so that I can live againI believe in love
        You give me everythitig I need
        Can't live without love
    You're the one who sets me free
        I believe in love
    And I know I'll never be without love
    Patiently leading me from all my fears
        And now so faithfully you carry me as the years disappear
        You take me as I am lift me up and make me stand and I'll never doubt againI believe in love
        You give me everythitig I need
        Can't live without love
    You're the one who sets me free
        I believe in love
And I know I'll never be without loveAs I look beyond the sky
    I can picture my eternity
    As you look into my heart
    You will know who holds the key You're the one for me
        you're the one who sets me free
    I could never live without your love
    Here I am, waiting for the final scene
