

Scarecrow

CoCo and the Butterfields

Scarecrow look away from me, I can see it on your brain,
(Huh, Huh!)
You don't need to say a word I just need to know your name,
(Huh, Huh!)
And Scarecrow just give me a clue as if by your own choice,
Do you wish that you could have a friend someone to hear your voice? Scarecrow scare the sun away, cause wind gives me a laugh,
Have you ever had a kiss, have you ever had a bath?
Now Scarecrow you are crying now, is it my time to go?
Is there more to you than rags and straw, maybe, I'll never know. Scarecrow can I ask of you for a secret or a lie,
You wouldn't need to say yes, but I'm sure you wouldn't mind,
'Cause you know how different life can be, when you're from the other field,
Some things are so simple, yeah, some things never heal,
Scarecrow I think I love you, will you ever understand,
(Understand)
It's not as if I've fallen for this but I'm doing what I can,
(What I can)
To keep the birds away from your, worn and dirty hands,
(Dirty hands)
The sun will always set with us and I know that's a fact! If a Scarecrow could sing a song
(Then show him how it goes)
I'm stuck inside the open,
(In someone else clothes)
But I've always wanted money,
(but money equals time)
And if you could see what I could see,
(But I'm sure you wouldn't mind)
Because Scarecrows are much younger,
Then a whisper or a tear,
They can make you feel normal, baby, even though you're weird,
And scarecrow please remember me, because its my time to go,
Is there more to me then words and song, maybe
I'll never know.
