In London

Johnny Logan

In London - she must bd in London.
In London - she must have gone to London.
Just two weeks of harmony.
Days we spent so easily.
In London - she must be in London.
Hurry me - we fell in love in London.Our love alive
swept in its tide
That city wide - London.
No street too long
our love belonged
Along the lanes of London.
Those afternoons
back in our roomMaking love until the moon rose over london.
She's now alone in London.Where to start - now that I'm in London?
Standing here this rainy day
So alone and out of place without her.
Yes
she must be in London.
