Somebody Else

Dilana

I never though this could happen to me
It always happens to somebody else
I never thought this could happen to me
It always happens to somebody else
It always happens to somebody else

Polished my rusty horse shoe with my lucky charm
And thanked my lucky stars
Thanked my lucky stars
In my back pocket Mr. Saint Christopher is watchin' over me
Is watchin' over me

And everything is coming up roses
Everything's blooming

CHORUS

I used to try hard, cry a lot, die a little everyday
When the world got in the way
World got in the way
Now I'm wiser, stronger, life's falling into place
That's the way its gonna stay
That's the way its gonna stay

And everything is coming up roses
Everything's changed

CHORUS

Nobody knows what the want till they get it

I never thought this could happen to me
It always happens to somebody else
It like I want this violently
It likes it happens to somebody else
It like it happens to somebody else
