

A Song Of Hope

Secret Lives Of The Freemasons all the street lights go out in the town where i live and the fire will meet the sky and the fire will rain down on our heads when we scream it lasts foreverstanding here on top of what they built and we will sing a song of love and we will sing a song of what we've done and when we sing all the throats off as onespark flame throw run and watch it all burn down so this is life now that you created that set you free to lovethen we run all night blinded by the break of daylight hand in hand it all goes by so fast
