

Pay Phones and Pills

Darkest Hour

I can still see
You sucking the life out of me
I can still feel the chill down my spine
When you told me Always one fateful night
That turns the tide
Always one fateful night
With nowhere to hide To live and die in a day, nothing left to say
Live and die in a day
To live and die in a day, nothing left to say
Live and die in a day Time will not erase the counting down of the days
You finally got what you've been waiting for
A handful of pills didn't soften the blow
One month of sucking it in, it started to show Always one fateful night
That turns the tide
Always one fateful night
With nowhere to hide To live and die in a day, nothing left to say
Live and die in a day
To live and die in a day, nothing left to say
Live and die in a day Time will not erase the counting down of the days
You finally got what you've been waiting for
Waking up to realize, it's not a dream, was the hardest thing
Waking up to realize, it's not a dream, the hardest thing To live and die in a day, nothing left to say
Time will not erase the counting down of the days
You finally got what you've been waiting for
