Your World

Ten Foot Pole

Yeah I thought that we were A team that we both would fight for A common goal a common dream
Holding out as I sacrifice more
So confused when you pound on my door
Outstretched hand, harsh demand, ice cold smile as you show me that It's your world I'm just a satellite
You're a star I'm just an asteroid
When you turn your head I disappear intil you look my way
Gone until you call me back, into your world
I guess I ignored signs
I wanted it to work so bad I
Denied that you don't care for me
Thank you for helping me to see that
Now I can move along no regret
It's only tim, it's all mine
Thank you for reminding me that...
