Empire of the Sun

We can remember forever
We can remember forever now
We can remember forever
We can remember forever now It's hard to find a way home
When my heart has lost count of that stone
Oh, save me, every voice inside of me just screams
Like it's an emergency Oh, I'm believing in your arms
There I'll be safe from harm
I don't want to live a life alone
If I'm above all the ones alone I'm just too exposed to find my way
With a heavy heartbreak
Hit me to your door
I throw myself into the fray
No seals come back
Love is on the way We can remember forever
We can remember forever now
We can remember forever
We can remember forever now Oh, I'm believing in your arms
There I'll be safe from harm
I don't want to live a life alone
If I'm above all the ones alone Forever a life a
That's right, forever a life alone, forever a life alone
Forever a life a
That's right, forever a life alone, forever a life alone We can remember forever
We can remember forever now
We can remember forever
We can remember forever now
We can remember forever
We can remember forever now
We can remember forever
We can remember forever now
