Plunger

Umphrey's McGee

Gravely now we stare at indecision Climbing stairs for sale is insufficientReading off the wall is too contagious We're capable of more, is that suspicious?Careful where you rest unspinning Don't be fooled by youth And after all the stains have settled There's nowhere you're fromStairs are always left with limits Won't there be a roof? And as for all the change in schedule Compared to hear who wonAnd maybe when you find it all again (And you will) Nothing's stopping, not ever here or thereAnd you rarely ever find it when you need (You're still lookin') Someday, sometime, someone, somewhere

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/