

Never Be Back

Lori McKenna

You and I for so many years
It's just not that easy to pack up the tears
And the pain and forget
We just can't end it
When I'm not through with it yet We build our walls and divide
And it's so much simpler
When we don't have to decide Who is right? As if it matters
There's never any doors
And we've burned all our letters But it's wrong to live life without you
It's gone, I know it's gone
But I can't let it go
Knowing it will never be back You and I, through so many fights
And it's not about the one
That we had the other night It's the ones we've never had
When you close your eyes to me
And pretend you're not mad What if this is our one chance?
What if it's a test and we failed?
We failed You and I for so many years
It's just not that easy to pack up the tears
And the pain and forget
We just can't end it
When I'm not through with it yet And it's wrong to live life without you
It's gone, I know it's gone
But I can't let it go
Knowing it will never Well, I can't let it go
Knowing it will never
I can't let it go
Knowing it will never be back
Knowing it will never be back
