Into The Storm

Yes

Something not so superficial
Like something I can really do without Need a hand to hold onto
Help me understandWhat's the point of reparation now?
You've just got to make that beat somehow
Into the stormAll the stories you've been telling
You must know someday they'll find you out
Through this life you've been propelling
Now you're spinning outTime to make your reparations now
You've just got to make that leap somehow
Come on and make it now
Into the stormArmies of angels are starting to fall
Bathed in the light at the break of the dawn
Armies of angels are leading me on
Take me away from the heart of the storm
Take me away
Take me awayOne thing learned from all these years
As stupid now as we were at first
Maybe that's the way it goes
When you try to change the worldSending pointless invitations out
You always knew what this was all about
Somewhere a fire is breaking out
Into the stormArmies of angels are starting to fall
Bathed in the light at the break of the dawn
Armies of angels are leading me on
Take me away from the heart of the storm
Take me away
Take me awayAnd we can fly from here
And we can fly from here
And we can fly from here
And we can fly from here
