

Prisoner of Love

Utada Hikaru

I'm a prisoner of love, prisoner of love, prisoner of love
I'm just a prisoner of love, prisoner of love

Love the way you throw lies at me, like I was blind,
You seize the day
Laugh it off till it hurts, always putting life first
That's what you say

Whats out of reach makes you blue
Still you want the peace of mind that may come from the truth.
But at times you lose your way and don't know what to do.
Now you're chasing after love that has flown away
The moment you came, life started to change, you opened a window in my heart
Light shining so brightly threw the dark It overwhelmed me
Threw hurt and the pain, when loneliness rains,
I know that I've got you in my life
I'm just a prisoner of love, just a prisoner of love

When this life takes you high, I'm along for the ride
The ups and downs, through the sunniest days or the stormiest nights, we'll be alright

I'm going to tell you the truth did not foresee painful times from the path I would choose but through all of it somehow you have always come through only one that I can truly call a friend.

I faked being strong, I wanted it all, but slowly I've mended all my ways
I contribute it to the day you came and said you loved me
I've got no where to go, times ours to hold, it's pointless to spend it all alone
I'm just a prisoner of love, just a prisoner of love.

Ooooooh, you're too close to just let go, Don't you give up Doooooon't, you ever leave, me all alone.

Stay with me, stay with me,
my baby, say you love me

---

Lyrics submitted by sophia.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>