Your Song

Mayday Parade

You say that Gainesville's got no soul
Well that sounds like a good excuse for coming home
And this Tallahassee skylines that keeps singing out a song
And now it's your song they've been singing all night long
And this Tallahassee rooftop just keeps calling out your name
To come and stay...
So stay
So stay
So stay and watch the stars come out and then the sun as they all fade away
I'll sing every song I wrote if it will make you want to stay
And then I'll say
That I missed you
And these words
They'll convince you, to stay
I poured through every song I wrote
Every line that I've cried every note that was split with this pen
And every line in every song, they all seemed to come out wrong, Until...
Your song

And we'll sing it all night long
And this Tallahassee skyline hasn't changed
And well the view from every rooftop says to stay
Stay and watch the stars come out and then the sun as they all fade away
Ill sing you every song I wrote if it will make you to stay
That I missed you and these words
They'll convince you
And I could call you baby doll all the time
And you'd whisper in my ears, you'd say, "I missed you boy"
Now sing it over again, and over again, and over again (x3)
Still you'd say
That I missed you
And these words
They'll convince you
And I'm hoping as I kiss you
And I could call you baby doll all the time
And you'd whisper in my ears, you'd say, "I missed you boy"
So sing it over again, and over again, and over again
[x2]

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/