

Tell-Tale Heart

Alvarez Kings

I acted unaffected,
Yet the presence was unnerving. It was her eyes, yes her eyes
That took me by surprise,
It was the stare yes the stare,
Her eyes were everywhere. Alone and unprotected,
I felt cold and disconnected. It was her eyes, yes her eyes
That took me by surprise,
It was the stare yes the stare,
Her eyes were everywhere. It was her eyes, yes her eyes
That took me by surprise,
It was the stare yes the stare,
Her eyes were everywhere.
We're already there, we're already there.
I feel cold I feel scared I won't trust anyone,
Not with with her eyes no, yes her eyes were much to my surprise! We're already there, we're already there! The confidence escaped me,
When my breath leapt out and left me, she said. It was her eyes, yes her eyes
That took me by surprise,
It was the stare yes the stare,
Her eyes were everywhere. It was her eyes, yes her eyes
That took me by surprise,
It was the stare yes the stare,
Her eyes were everywhere.
We're already there, we're already there.
And I feel cold I feel scared I won't trust anyone,
Not with with her eyes no, yes her eyes were much to my surprise! We're already there, we're already there! Hearts collide, tears run dry,
Are we ever gonna be there?
One last kiss?
One more goodbye.
Are we ever gonna be there?
Are we ever gonna be there? We're already there, we're already there.
I feel cold I feel scared I won't trust anyone,
Not with with her eyes no, yes her eyes were much to my surprise! We're already there, we're already there! Heart collide, tears run dry,
Are we ever gonna be there?
One last kiss?
One more goodbye.
Are we ever gonna...?

I feel cold I feel scared I won't trust anyone.
Not with with her eyes no, yes her eyes were much to my surprise! We're already there, we're already there!
