

As You Are

Travis

Everyday I wake up alone because I'm not like all the other boys

And ever since I was young, I had no choice

But it's okay to lead me on, I must admit it's not much fun

To be led on by such a one as you are, as you are, as you are And ever since I woke up, I felt the net was lifting me out of the sea

And even when I'm sinking, I feel the need

But it's okay to lead me on, I must admit it's not much fun

To be led on by such a one as you are, as you are, as you are And ever since a long time, I felt the rain

And there was no danger and no more strangers as you are
