

No Work, All Play

Hilary Duff

Some people go through life like it's a breeze
They float their way through days and never feel the gray
And their tears fall but they don't sing
Their temporary marks, not always from the heart
They live lightly
Breathe so easy
No digging in
To what's within
No work, all play, what a mistake
Let the clouds roll in and fill the sky, get that melancholy feeling inside
And work on yourself, don't run from the pain you've felt
You don't have to slide, life's not one big high
Sometimes it's hard lookin' at yourself
You'd rather place the blame then point it your own way
I still do hide from my feelings myself
But I'm trying hard these days, not to procrastinate
And face my fate
Stay on my case
No work, all play, what a mistake
Let the clouds roll in and fill the sky, get that melancholy feeling inside
And work on yourself, don't run from the pain you've felt
You don't have to slide, life's not one big high
No one is perfect, no one's the same
We've all got problems that we haven't faced
The challenges well, they'll make you strong
Don't put them off for too long
You gotta know yourself to be yourself
You gotta do it all the way
You gotta know yourself to be yourself
And it's a struggle everyday
You gotta know yourself to be yourself
You gotta do it all the way
You gotta know yourself to be yourself
And it's a struggle everyday
No work, all play, what a mistake
Let the clouds roll in and fill the sky, get that melancholy feeling inside
And work on yourself, don't run from the pain you've felt
You don't have to slide, life's not one big high
No work, all play, what a mistake
Let the clouds roll in and fill the sky, get that melancholy feeling inside
And work on yourself, don't run from the pain you've felt
You don't have to slide, life's not one big high
You gotta know yourself to be yourself
You gotta do it all the way
You gotta know yourself to be yourself
And it's a struggle everyday
You gotta know yourself to be yourself
You gotta do it all the way
You gotta know yourself to be yourself
And it's a struggle everyday
You gotta know yourself to be yourself
And it's a struggle everyday

You gotta know yourself to be yourself
And it's a struggle everyday
