Blood from Stone

Benediction

Roasted visions unherald the call
Pay the piper or face the fall
Unpleasant benevolence
Undesired, it's your defenseRotting flavored retribution
Burning hotly in your throat
Perished antiseptic inner domains
Drowning love begins to floatThe familiar screams aloud
Mainline my blackened bones
Exaction with a vengeance
History consumes its ownWicked voice, a whispering flame
Stems from all past foul deeds
Telling me that you're to blame
Ruled by your bitter creedsAn ordered mind, my constitution
Left me on my own
Aggravating your solution
Running blood from stoneBastard wanton act betrayed me
Left me all alone
I will surviveHonesty a poor mutation
An uprising complication
Doubtful you will ever change
Senility onset of age
I'm betrayedRed blood, the black runs in Spreading wings and claws
Flooding me in a sickly grin
With sharply smiling jaws, hateSave me all that human thought
Judge not the moment past
Frozen heart to the last bone
Pumping on the blood from stoneWicked voice, a whispering flame
Stems from all past foul deeds
Telling me that you're to blame
Ruled by your bitter creedsAn ordered mind, my constitution
Left me on my own
Aggravating your solution
Running blood from stone
