

Said and Done

Eighteen Visions

Close the book and turn the page
Exit players from the stage
Count the moons and the stars
But please stop fighting wars with meAfter all is said and done you still try
After all is said and done you're not mineTurn your back on all hope
This sheep has shed his winter coat
You send your notes and rantings
This pigeon has hard times landingAfter all is said and done you still try
After all is said and done you're not mineAfter all is said and done you still try
After all is said and done you're not mine
