

Bliss

Mari

[Chorus]

Oh, I know

Say I don't really know nothing

Say I don't really know nothing

Say I don't really know know Oh, I know

Say I don't really know nothing

Say I don't really know nothing

Say I don't really know know

[Verse 1]

And when we go when gone forever

I'm a go-getter I couldn't wait for God forever

Was blaming you until I looked inside of I for errors

If my eyes were clearer

I would've been had that Mclacren They say vision where the money come oh

They say the hood is where the money go slow

They say the world is just money this money that

Tell me this, how you gon fix it when ya mommy broke They tryna keep her off of social security

Cause they don't wanna

See her shine and go buy nice jewelry Now I think about it

I see why my nights so blurry

When it's hit after hit

Cause what I write so Curry And if she knew my money short she might grow worried

Then tell me get her purse like ole' Miss Pearly

Thanks a lot, so grateful for the cheese

So I can stunt on my haters like take a look of deez [Chorus] [Verse 2]

And this for everybody in my damn business

Nosey ass can I at least get a witness

Can I get chick with some beautiful fitness

Done had me a big girl

I think you the shit cause Bitches so shallow got me all on the deep end tweaking

Like is we hanging next weekend

No

And once we fuck you go

You on yo way back home

On my way to the top but y'all sleeping So many questions unanswered

Like is it the air in the hood causing asthma and cancer uh

And why my nephew 6 with Bronchitis

Can't touch the air that kill us

Yet still gotta fight it uh And White man up in a suit and tie smiling

And Black boy up in the ER crying
Thanks a lot, so grateful for the cheese
Then pose on these fakes like take a look of deez[Chorus][Outro]

Oh, I know

And I don't need you darling

And I don't need your honey

And I don't need your loving

Oh, I know

And I don't need you darling

And I don't need your honey

And I don't need your loving
