

Seventeen Candles

The Pink Spiders

Every day's a distraction
All the animals just looking for action
And Emily's free styling rhymes
Smoking in the girls' room to kill some time
'Cause all they want is a girl
Who parties hard and doesn't bother to argue
And nobody's worse for the wear
Everybody's cool with the I don't care
Seventeen candles are burning bright tonight
But I've a feeling that she believes
She's a bit old for cake and gifts and party favors
Emily, everyone told her it don't get much better
Which only upset her, could this be as good as it gets?
Just as bad as a half stack
Of vodka tonic bottled up in her backpack
She's badder than Big Heavy James
She tunes it all out but the fact remains
That all we do is talk about the future
Like there's someway to control it
Why not just enjoy the ride?
Seventeen candles are burning bright tonight
But I've a feeling that she believes
She's a bit old for cake and gifts and party favors
Emily, everyone told her it don't get much better
Which only upset her, could this be as good as it gets?
She said, "If this is the night life, I'd rather stay in
You call this a good time, I just call it a trend
If this is as good as it gets then I'm packing up my shit
And I'm gone and I'm not coming back"
Seventeen candles are burning bright tonight
But I've a feeling that she believes
She's a bit old for cake and gifts and party favors
Emily, everyone told her it don't get much better
Which only upset her, could this be as good as it gets?
Seventeen candles are burning bright tonight
But I've a feeling that she believes
She's a bit old for cake and gifts and party favors
Emily, everyone told her it don't get much better
Which only upset her, could this be as good as it gets?

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>