Do You Know

Angel City

Time stands still in my heart
I don't know where you are
Longing for what I deny
Can we just turn it around tonightAnd do you know without you I just go crazy?
And do you know that all I think about is where you are?
And do you know that only you can save me, baby?
From going through this life all aloneAnd do you know without you I just go crazy?
And do you know that all I think about is where you are?
And do you know that only you can save me, baby?
From going through this life all aloneWhen will missing you stop?
Seems we lost before the start
Holding back what was inside
Can we just let it all out tonight?And do you know, and do you know?
And do you know, and do you know?And do you know without you I just go crazy?
And do you know that all I think about is where you are?
And do you know that only you can save me, baby?
From going through this life all aloneAnd do you know without you I just go crazy?
And do you know that all I think about is where you are?
And do you know that only you can save me, baby?
From going through this life all aloneDo you know, don't look back on yesterday
I believe we can find a way
Don't let hopes and dreams fade
Don't hesitate it's not too lateI go crazy, I go crazy
And do you know, and do you know?
And do you know, and do you know?And do you know without you I just go crazy?
And do you know that all I think about is where you are?
And do you know that only you can save me, baby?
From going through this life all aloneAnd do you know without you I just go crazy?
And do you know that all I think about is where you are?
And do you know that only you can save me, baby?
From going through this life all alone
