A Lover Is Forever

Trisha Yearwood

I think I understand
The reason you won't stay with me
You think a ring upon your hand
Will solve your insecuritySo go ahead and play your games
If that's what you must do
Nothing here remains the same
But the way I feel for youI can watch you walk away
And I know that I'll get by
And I know just what to say
But honey I can't tell a lieSo figure out what you must do
I know you think you're so damn clever
You can marry any time you want
But a lover is foreverI can watch you walk away
And I know that I'll get by
And I know just what to say
But honey I can't tell a lieFigure out what you must do
I know you think you're so damn clever
You can marry any time you want
But a lover is foreverYou can marry any time you want
But a lover is forever
