

Into The Storm

Jack Bruce

Something not so superficial
Like something I can really do without Need a hand to hold onto
 Help me understand
 What's the point of reparation now?
 You've just got to make that beat somehow
 Into the storm
 All the stories you've been telling
 You must know someday they'll find you out
 Through this life you've been propelling
 Now you're spinning out
 Time to make your reparations now
 You've just got to make that leap somehow
 Come on and make it now
 Into the storm
 Armies of angels are starting to fall
 Bathed in the light at the break of the dawn
 Armies of angels are leading me on
 Take me away from the heart of the storm

Take me away
 Take me away
One thing learned from all these years
 As stupid now as we were at first
 Maybe that's the way it goes
 When you try to change the world
 Sending pointless invitations out
 You always knew what this was all about
 Somewhere a fire is breaking out
 Into the storm
 Armies of angels are starting to fall
 Bathed in the light at the break of the dawn
 Armies of angels are leading me on
 Take me away from the heart of the storm
 Take me away
 Take me away
 And we can fly from here
 And we can fly from here
 And we can fly from here

And we can fly from here
