

Divinity

Witherscape

anger, the lost divinity and he'll waste no more time awakened, before the entity for his faith's on the line the madness before serenity where the dead will not wallow preacher, remove the deity slaughter them all in here conspire with the blackest night blood will be spilling, she knows the fallen they'll never leave their screams will fade away patients' eyes are watching with decay torment with delight
the day has come, the darkness will arise cleanse the paranoid
feel the strap, the tightening of a soul set them free, their light will fade away choking hollowed the restless for the prize desire for the kill within hear the begging no more the fallen are never heard again make the pain go away the madness before serenity where the dead will not wallow
slaughter them all in here
patients' eyes are watching with decay
torment with delight
cleanse the paranoid
choking hollowed the restless for the prize patients' eyes are watching with decay torment with delight
cleanse the paranoid
choking hollowed the restless for the prize
