Afterparty

Freezepop

one night he went out dancing much too soon the night was done so he asked some people over they could keep on having fun he said it's cool, invite some friends a lot of people soon stopped by the house was filled with strangers he let everyone inside then things got a little crazy a few more hours quickly passed slowly people started leaving he was up until the last standing in his living room he surveyed all the mess he gave up and went to bed declared his party a success getting ready the next morning went to put some product in his hair reached over to the bathroom shelf but the 'bedhead' wasn't there he looked under the sink blinked his eyes in disbelief the 'bedhead' was really gone someone at the party was a thief 'bedhead' is expensive that was a shitty thing to do don't drink someone's else's beer and then swipe their belongings too I wrote a song about stealing bikes you know it's not entirely true theft's a lot less awesome when it's happening to you
