

Inside These Lines

Trent Dabbs

Who is the one I see across the table
Eyes that always seem so familiar
We sit alone so comfortably in the silence
If I touch you would you be surprised
Did we drift out closer to a compromise Oh have we lost what we had inside these, inside these lines
How could we watch it stay the same, all this time and just be fine
It's okay to see where we are, where we should be
But are we gonna find ourselves inside these lines, inside these lines
Inside these lines Your skin is next to mine, but I can't feel you
We've learned to pass the time in the same room
So remind me of how the world stood still
We were shining, living just to taste the thrill Oh have we lost what we had inside these, inside these lines
How could we watch it stay the same, all this time and just be fine
It's okay to see where we are, and where we should be
Are we gonna find ourselves inside these lines, inside these lines I'm circling the meaning
With the lines we've drawn and not believe in
I'm circling the meaning
With the lines we've drawn and not believe in Have we lost what we had inside these, inside these lines
How could we watch it stay the same, all this time and just be fine
It's okay to see where we are, and where we should be
Are we gonna find ourselves inside these lines, inside these lines Are we gonna find ourselves
Are we gonna find ourselves inside these lines, inside these lines
