

Thick and Thin

Dangfly!

The people that I meet and the people that I know
All of them will come and most will come and go.
The people that I keep closest to my heart are the people that get hurt when I blow apart.

I know I can always count on you, through any trouble I could be going through; but did you know, I am here
forever, through thick and thin?

I don't have to be everything to you.
I think I have shown monkeys see and monkeys do.
And I don't have to say what is on my mind.
I'll shove it in a smile and tell you all I am fine.
I am fine.

I know I can always count on you, through any trouble I could be going through; but did you know, I am here
forever, through thick and thin?

I know I can always count on you, through any trouble I could be going through; but did you know, I am here
forever, through thick and thin?

I know the weather may be bad, with the people we make mad. Don't tread on me my life you see nothing but honesty

I know I can always count on you, through any trouble I could be going through; but did you know, I am here
forever, through thick and thin?

I can take you out across the open sea, and I will take you down across my bended knee; but did you know I am here forever through thick and thin.

Through thick and thin

Lyrics submitted by Adam Poulin.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>