Revelation

Pale Forest

No one had taken notice of her smile
No one had spotted her tears
No one had deemed her good or vile
No one had calmed her fearsBut she brought me a golden heart on a velvet chain
You know we'll never be apart or experience painShe whispered Never be apart
Never going back to the start Experience pain
never againNo one had taken notice of my smile
No one had spotted my tears
No one had deemed me good or vile
No one had calmed my fearsBut her blood lives inside me in every vain
She shows me what I can not see keeps me saneShe whispered
Never be apart
Never going back to the start
Experience pain
never again
