Pale Forest

[L.M. Jenssen / J. Hagen]Swipe the jelly glass clean I thougt I might let it all blow over We can talk about anything else I assume the matter is too delicateHe's passing it over now with his standards of professional confidence The AA meeting is buzzing his collegues are compassionate peopleStick your leg out the papers have been put away pieces of mind stacked under his chesterfieldThe hat sticks to his forehead he leaves for his usual afternoon conference Knowing how to speak to offenders they'll be ready for his imminent summoningStick your leg out
the papers have been put away
stacked under his chesterfield
