

Falling Awake

Tarja

Phantom voices with no words to follow
At the mercy of the cold and hollow
I withdrew into my sanctuary of silence
My defense In this moment I am just becoming Liberated from my cell of nothing
No sensation there was only breathing
Overcome oblivion Falling Awake
From a walking sleep
And all that remains
Is the dying memory
And now I can dive for
These dreams I make
Like I am Falling
I am falling awake Waves of melodies once forgotten
Like a symphony across the ocean
Never knew that they could hear my calling
Deep within Crashing in Rushing in
Like falling Falling Awake
From a walking sleep
And all that remains
Is the dying memory
And now I can dive for
These dreams I make
Like I am Falling
I am falling awake There is no returning to that emptiness,
Loneliness
The dream that lives inside of me
Won't fade away, it's wide awake Falling Awake
From a walking sleep
And all that remains
Is the dying memory
And now I can dive for
These dreams I make
Like I am Falling
I am falling awake
