She's Come Around

Jason Rubero

She puts her makeup on in the car

You say "it takes her so long to look pretty, she's gotta drive so far"

But the pedal's down

She's on the move, she won't stand for your lies

Remember all the stupid things you've said?

We'll it'll be a while

Before she comes around

And she'll wake you

And she'll take you further than you've ever been

And she'll fake you

You think she's blind but

She'll show you things that you've never seen

You've never seen her

You've never seen

If you could ever see her

Broken down and on her knees

I think you'd stop and question way

You don't appreciate her

You say you love but you seem to

Hate her

Why?

Is she slit her wrists

Would you write a song

In the ensuing gush

Even though it's wrong

Every fist that you let fly

Is your own bruised, blue-black eye

So don't even try

Anymore

She's come around

She's come around

Yeah she's come around

She's come around from you

She's come around from you

She's come around

From you
