Everybody Wants

Half Moon Run

And I said I want you, to want me
Well I want you, to need me

'Cause everybody wants to feel needed some times

Has the game changed, have the rules changed
And as we're getting older, is it getting colder
If you know, well if you know now, won't you tell me
Summers coming soon, my heart's been growing wild
I walk without planning, I walk just like a child
So go speed to somewhere, the world you can't control
So runs the resurrection, the tired souls

And everybody wants to feel needed some times
The cold now don't let go, and why I need to know it
The west wind been calling, my heart is falling
In love with my shoes, walk off these blues World I have not seen, places I've not been

'Cause everybody wants to feel needed some times
And I said I want you, to want me
And I want you, to need me
'Cause everybody wants to feel needed some times

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by RICH AYER, PADDY BYRNE
Lyrics Â© BMG RIGHTS MANAGEMENT US, LLC

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/